

Ms. Ebony Lawrence

Ebony Lawrence, CPTD has served in various roles in higher education for over 15 years. She has demonstrated expertise in instructional design, course facilitation/instruction, curriculum development, and accreditation in both traditional and distance education models. Ebony served as the Associate Dean of Curriculum Instructional Design and Technology for Ultimate Medical Academy, an online allied health institution, where she led a team responsible for the creation and maintenance of programmatic curriculum for over 80 courses across 9 programs of study. Previously, Ebony served as a Senior Instructional Designer in the grocery industry leading teams that created job-specific, occupational health compliance, and leadership development training for the Industrial Operations division. She served as Training Center Faculty for the American Heart Association for over a decade and has been a Faculty member for Pima Medical Institute's Healthcare Administration program. She published a collegiate textbook in medical terminology in 2015.

Ebony's tenure as a Subject Specialist for Allied Health programs and Education Standards Evaluator for DEAC started back 2015. She holds a Bachelor of Science in Community Health Education from Virginia Commonwealth University, a Master of Science in Health Administration from the University of North Carolina at Charlotte, and has completed doctoral studies (ABD) at Capella University in the area of Public Health-Epidemiology.